CELEBRATION OF CONSTITUTION DAY

NOVEMBER 26, 2016

FUNDAMENTAL DUTIES COMMITMENT PLEDGE

Being part of a nation gives us all a feeling of security, strength and sublimation. It is the citizens of a nation, in whatever station of life, who make the nation great by their dreams, dedication, determination and discipline. A nation looks up to its leadership and citizens for providing the roadmap for a vibrant and happy life for the people and also the requisite mental and physical energy for achieving the same.

Our Constitution describes the noble vision of our nation-builders through the Preamble and by laying down the Fundamental Rights of the people. It also lays down the Fundamental Duties of the citizens, including the ruling people, which should be kept in mind in all our endeavours. It is the balanced focus on rights and duties which ensures the high quality of life for the citizens of the country.

We observe November 26 as the Constitution Day. This year it is intended by the Government of India to observe the Day with more vigour and content, with special emphasis on our Fundamental Duties.

On this Day, we dedicate ourselves to the progress and wellness of our nation India or Bharatvarsha as we know it since ancient times.

A programme is being organized in this connection in the seminar room on November 26, 2016 at 12: 50 p.m. All the faculty members & students are invited.
